

FUTURE SOLDIER

Congratulations on your decision to join the Army! Hopefully you found this short training helpful. First, if you do not already have a financial institution, you will need to choose one and open an account to receive your pay. Next, you should understand the GI Bills offered by the military and be ready to choose one during Basic Training. Upon completion of the videos and reading these handouts, please fill out this form. Email or take a printed copy to your recruiter. The recruiter will verify you have a financial institution and have given thought to which education benefit is best for you.
